

The government's role shouldn't be to limit competition it should be to encourage new technology, I am sure if the people at the FCC became part of the XM nation they too would agree that the product is superior to top-40 fm and that people who are willing to pay for radio service should be able to get local traffic and whether do we not get local stations on cable tv tell me what is the difference.